WILL ASK DAUGHERTY FOR RULING ON DISPUTE

Haynes Prepares Memoran-dum on Ship Liquor Sales.

New York Herald Bureau. Washington, D. C., June 17. Attorney-General Daugherry will be asked within the next few days to give an opinion of every phase of the controversy relative to sale of liquor not only on American ships but on foreign ships as well.

The situation had become so embar assing to Commissioner Haynes that e set to work to-day to prepare a com-lete memorandum of various aspects f the controversy, with the intent of

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair, it was learned, read the memo-randum and approved it forthwith, in-dicating that he will hand it on to Secretary Mellon, who is expected to ask the Attorney-General not later than Monday to prepare an opinion on the basis of the situation as set forth in the Haynes memorandum. Commissioner Haynes disapproves of the action of Chairman Lasker, and obviously disagrees with the ruling given by the counsel of the Shipping Board. His position is that the ruling is a toleration of what he considers violation of the law by the Shipping Board. It is apparent that he is averse to launching into a controversy with Chairman Lasker, as such a controversy would create an embarrassment for the Administration, for President Harding, who appointed both Mr. Haynes and Mr. Lasker to office. He naturally prefers that Chairman Lasker should be overruled by his superiors, and the only way to do that, short of going to the courts, is to go to the Attorney-General.

What Commissioner Haynes would like to have, it is assumed, is an opinion from the Attorney-General definitely stating that neither American nor foreign ships may enter American harbors if they have liquor on board, either in the form of bar supplies or sealed for transport. That would enable him to act against the sale of liquor on American vessels without discrimination against passenger ships flyimination against passenger ships fly-

Prohibition Commissioner Haynes is concerned over a reported new discovery of a huge nationwide liquor ring with a complete and detailed organization perhaps greater than his own.

This ring's existence was officially reported by Director Rutter of California to-day. He said it is well organized and makes a regular levy on lawbreakers who are given in return protection against the Government and local proposition forces, which are under a complete surveillance system.

An official statement from Prohibition Headquarters on Director Rutter's report states:

in the past, when tariff bills were enacted the discussion on the Senate floor was confined largely to academic discussion of the tariff, only a few items, such as lumber and wool, being discussed specifically. There never has been such a disposition before to pick a bill to pieces and throw light on what the underlying reasons were which prompted the fixing of this rate or that.

When the agricultural items come up within the next few days there will be little opposition to them from the agricultural bloc in the Senate, due, of course, to the fact that the rates for the most part are the same as those provided in the Emergency Tariff law passed at the outset of the Harding Administration. The rates on wool are lower, slightly, than those in the Emergency law.
